REPAIR YOUR BODY AFTER THE RIGOURS OF EACH DAY

The Sports Performance Repair mattresses contain the amazing Intense™ fabric and a Climatex Quilt to help reduce pressure points and heat build-up for a more relaxed sleep. For a fresh sleep environment, our foams have been treated with Ultra Fresh, a coating spray that contributes in the control of common allergens to help you wake up feeling completely refreshed.

A layer of column gel under the Intense™ fabric top panel is used to aid blood circulation, reduce pressure points and muscular tension in your body. Column gel combined with graphene-infused memory foam creates an almost "weightless" feeling. Our Sports Performance Repair mattresses feature the ActiveSense 5 zone pocket spring, offering amazing support through an intelligent two-stage coil that detects and deflects pressure, whilst responding independently to you and your partner's movements.

On our Sports Performance Collection, you'll wake up feeling refreshed and restored, to tackle each day with an endless supply of energy.

The human body is an electric field that can reach as high as 30,000 volts. With the scientifically proven Intense™ fabric used on the top panel, you will experience a deeper and more relaxed sleep through the ability to free the body of static tension. Within this fabric is a carbon fibre thread which captures the electrons in your body and releases them into the airflow of the mattress, so that tension literally flows from your body.
